

Confidence removes risk; attention does no better than the lengths it reflects

